

De Bestiarum Naturis 044 – the Little Humpback Whale

*Of all the dramas that take place in the great Mysterious Ocean, not last in severity is that of the Little Humpback Whales which
- descended from a very ancient and even nobler line of giants, masters of all waters and currents - they continue, like points on the quick, to be surprised when they are caught from these ugly bipeds in the air, which moreover confuse and mix them with the fetid trifles of shallow water, with rock limpets or millions of stupid net sardines.*

DBN 044 - THE LITTLE HUMPBACK WHALE

Drawing
Indian ink on paper
cm. 33.0 x 24.0 2022

for more information debestiarumnaturis@gmail.com