

De Bestiarum Naturis 027 – the Tufted Turkey

*What can I make myself beautiful with, today?
Today, which is the day I'll meet you?
Today, after decades and children, after pain and relief.
Today I would like to hide tears and wrinkles,
meet you without a past...
look at that beautiful tuft, love.
A tuft for a lifetime.
I would like to look beautiful to you: is it really so stupid,
for a turkey?*
