

De Bestiarum Naturis 589 – The Scroller

The Physiologus says that the nature of this bear is such that, after rolling itself in honey, it sits in a clearing and waits.

*Soon enough, the Scroller begins to devour all the animals that, climbing onto its back in search of the honey, find themselves, without meaning to,
between its jaws.*

DBN 589 – THE SCROLLER

drawing

India ink and honey on laminated paper

25.0 × 32.5 cm

2026